Pirpicchio ROSE Spumante 2018 - 11.5% 39.00

I Suoli -
100% Nerello Mascalese -
Terre Siciliane

Fruity and spunky spumante with a long finishing. Grapes are pressed directly as a whole bunch, there is no maceration, contact with the skins is only the pressing time. Bouquet of citrus fruits.

Paraschos 2014 - 13.5%

59.50

Paraschos -
100% Merlot -
Friuli Venezia Giulia

Some unripe aromas of dried herb and green curry give this northern Italian Merlot a spicy, tangy feel in the mouth. There's a touch of acidity followed by blackberry and forest floor.

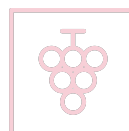

Why have we selected this wine?

We have carefully chosen only the best products to satisfy the most discerning palates and to make you feel like true wine connoisseurs. Here you will find two options that will make your mouth water:

The first wine is made on Etna, each single vineyard has its own organoleptic profile and taste. This is due to the fact that the soil changes every 100mt: based on the age of the lava, on the altitude and on exposition to sun.

With "i suoli" the 3 friends wanted to do something different. They therefore assembled grapes from the best vineyards from the best "contrade" of the North East side of Etna.

The second Wine is made from Parachos family, began in 1998 with a mission to create natural wines, following the old-wine making methods of the Collio and Vipava region. With a unique respect for the environment and the use of the same vines, this family has remained dedicated to winemaking without the use of chemicals, a devotion to pesticide free grapes and an understanding of regional climate, one which is nestled amongst the Dolomite mountains and the Adriatic Sea.

The vintage of the wines can change due to the new releases.
